

Connected living spaces, featuring art by Richard Blackwell, Flinders Lane Gallery.

“The central living area builds on an established design principle, a space where people can come together or pass through. The client loves that they live in a house where the formal spaces aren’t tucked away – there’s no room that isn’t used daily.”

Jade Vidal, Bower Architecture